Sociology

SAGE Video streaming collections, for library purchase, are developed in partnership with leading academics, societies, and practitioners, including many of SAGE's own authors and academic partners, to deliver cutting-edge research-oriented video within the social sciences.

Each collection includes a breadth of video types and lengths to support students of all levels, such as case studies, tutorials, interviews with leading researchers, documentaries, footage of real-life professional contexts, quick reference definitions, and more.

The SAGE Video Sociology Collection supports students and researchers at all levels. With more than 60% of content exclusive to SAGE, this robust collection includes the following:

- Multiple hours of "In Practice" videos that highlight careers and practitioners in real-world settings
- Tutorials that explain hot topics in the field, such as environmental, urban, and regional sociology; race, ethnicity, and migration; and sociology of organizations, institutes, and structure
- Case study videos that explore particular research and its impact on policy
- Interviews that share the latest insights from an international scope of professionals, including George Ritzer, Earl Babbie, Adina Nack, Les Back, and Akwugo Emejulu
- Carefully curated licensed film content from esteemed sources, including BBC Worldwide, Media Education Foundation, and Center for New American Media.

More than 120 hours and 330 videos on these topics:
